

What is Re-registration?

The prescribed period for passing section A or section B examination is six years. Candidates, who would be unsuccessful in section A or in section B examination after the expiry of six year period, would be eligible to apply for examination re-registration.

Six year period will be counted from:

Section B : From next term of passing Section A Examination.

Note: If your membership is taken before 2005, then count 6 year cycles from 2005.

Re-registration in Section B

- Candidates, who have already qualified Section A Examination but unsuccessful to qualify Section B Examination in six years, shall be permitted to appear afresh in Section B Examination in existing scheme retaining their Section A status. Subjects passed during six-years, if any, shall be cancelled and they would need to pass Section B Examination afresh.
- Also, you would be required to do project work and the laboratory experiments afresh.
- Six years period shall be counted from Summer examination. For example, if six years period of a candidate expired in Winter 2013 examination, re-registration period of six years shall be counted from Summer 2014 irrespective of the month and year the candidate submits his application.
- You have to send two forms (i) reregistration form (attached) (ii) Section B registration form (attached)
- If your address is changed from the registered address then also send change of address form (attached).

Deadline for applying

You are advised to apply for the same so as to reach IEI latest by April 10 and October 10, failing which they will not be eligible to appear in immediate Summer and Winter Examination, respectively.

So, send enclosed completely filled application form to us by March 31 and September 30. Forms submitted after these dates may also be considered – but not for sure.
